

Calgary Sports Physician Chosen for Men's Olympic Hockey Team

February 4, 2022

Calgary - With just a few days to the Opening Ceremony, Dr. David Manning of Group23 Sports Medicine is off to Beijing as team physician with the Canada Men's Olympic Hockey Team!

Dr. Manning, a sports physician from Calgary, works with Hockey Canada as well as Taekwondo Canada, the Calgary Stampeders and the Calgary Flames. He is also CEO of Group23 Sports Medicine, a premier sports medicine destination offering the most comprehensive, innovative, and evidence-based care.

"I am thrilled to once again be able to support our Canadian players in their physical care and recovery," said Dr. Manning. "And at the Olympics – the pinnacle of athleticism! It's truly a career highlight!"

Dr. Manning began his career in rural communities all over B.C., Alberta and Nunavut, providing his expertise to clinics, hospitals and emergency departments. After completing a fellowship in Sports and Exercise Medicine at the University of Alberta, Glen Sather Sports Medicine Clinic, he joined Group23 Sports Medicine in 2014.

In his 'spare' time, Dr. Manning owns and operates a fly-fishing guiding company and plays men's league hockey.

Dr. David Manning is a member of the Canadian College of Family Physicians and the Canadian Academy of Sport and Exercise Medicine and has his Diploma in Sport and Exercise Medicine. He holds medical licenses in Alberta, B.C. and Nunavut Territory.

About Group23 Sports Medicine

At Group23 Sports Medicine we deliver positive healthcare experiences and empower individuals to rise above injury, and get back to movement. As a full-service sports medical clinic offering timely assessment, diagnosis, treatment planning and rehabilitation, we aim to be Alberta's premier sports medicine destination offering the most comprehensive, innovative, and evidence-based care.

-30-

Media Inquiries:

Courtney Massicotte

socialmedia@group23.ca

403-284-4040